

THE Gleichen CALL

Year VII., No. 11

GLEICHEN, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1914

Per Year $1.50

Namaka Notes

In the graphic account of the Namaka sports held on Empire Day the Call mercifully omitted any account of the baseball match between Bow Valley and Namaka. This resulted in a win for Bow Valley, 13 to 2. The Namaka team are good sports and although badly defeated on this occasion have not given up hope of giving Bow Valley a better game on another occasion.

An accident occurred to Mike Brown on Saturday. He received a nasty kick from a horse in the jaw, breaking off some of his teeth and injuring his mouth badly. Dr. Girvin was telephoned for from Strathmore and arrived in his auto in about 30 minutes. Mr. Brown has been taken to Calgary and at the time of writing further particulars are not to hand. Before these lines are in print we are hopeful of hearing a good account of him and all join in wishing him a speedy recovery.

In the Calgary Herald for Friday in the account of Bishop Pinkham College field day the name of Alvan Winspear of Namaka, figures in 4 firsts and 1 second. This easily gives him the championship medal of his class. The same boy recently passed the Cambridge University local examination being one of the three boys to pass from Calgary. So last Thursday's result shows him not only good at lessons but at sports as well.

The committee of the Empire Day Sports wish to thank those who donated towards the sports. The following are the names of those who donated:

ALL IN READINESS FOR THE STAMPEDE*Special Trains and Rates----Auto Races Arranged---Big Crowds Assured Each Day

That the Stampede of Gleichen is going to be one huge unbounded success becomes more evident every day. Enthusiasm remains at fever pitch and one has only to walk along Crawford Street any afternoon to see the eager excited groups of people, many of them strangers, talking earnestly, and the one subject is "Stampede." Everything now depends upon the weather-man and if he sends along the right kind of weather the crowds should be enormous. The stampede is going to be a great advertisement for not only the town of Gleichen, but also the surrounding district, and this is evidenced by the fact that communications are being received from all over Canada and many parts of the States asking not only for information about the Stampede but also about opportunities in the town and district. It is up to the good people of Gleichen to see that all their friends are advised and invited to come and see a splendid representation of the West as it was in its earlier days. Tell them about the cheap fares and special trains, and Gleichen will not belie its name for giving a hearty welcome. There must be many here in the West whose only knowledge of the Wild West was gleaned from the stories read in boyhood's happy jays, and many, who, as they read the deeds of derring-do, hoped that they might emulate some of the stirring deeds done by the old-time cowboys. Now is their opportunity to view the real thing at close range and realize in part some of their youthful dreams.

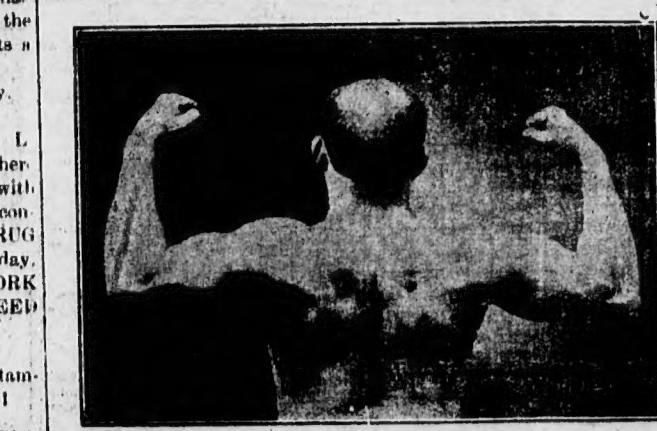

To the old-timer, too, it will recall many of the scenes of the earlier days in which he took part, and many old-time stories will be recalled from the storehouse of memory, of thrilling deeds done when the red blood coursed madly through the veins. For young and old alike the opportunity is one not to be missed, for such a gathering of magnificent men and horses may never be seen again.

The Agricultural Grounds are a scene of bustling activity these days—and stands and bleachers for the multitude are rapidly being erected. Everything is well in hand now for the great event. The directors are working day and night planning out everything for the comfort and entertainment of the many visitors. Ground has been reserved for the storage of the many automobiles expected during the Stampede. The concessions for the various refreshments stands and games have been eagerly bought up and there will be many side entertainments for the passing crowds.

It might not be out of place to mention here that among the string of Day horses now here, there are such famous performers as Two Step, Rooster Scar Head, Tornado, Harry Tracy, Sage Hen and Barro Head. Mr. Reg Bray, who is in charge of the bunch, says they are all in great shape and show promise of providing an exciting time. Those who visited Calgary and Winnipeg Stampedes will be familiar with the names of these horses and, remembering their individual performances, realize what a treat is in store.

As an additional attraction several automobile races are being put on as a finish to the Stampede on Friday evening and some further excitement is promised. About a dozen Calgary men have stated their intention of being in Gleichen to take part in the automobile race Friday evening. Townsley and Wernick and some others of our local men who have competed in similar events before are busy straining their ears to be in readiness for the events. They intend to show that when it comes to racing, Gleichen cars can hold their own with the best. The prizes offered are especially good and no doubt the fight to get among the money will mean keen and exciting races. No one should miss these races. Show your appreciation by being there and boosting the Gleichen boys.

The Canadian Pacific Railway is giving special rates of single fare and a third from all points except Calgary from where, special train will be run each day and a rate charged of $1.55 for round trip.

Gleichen 9. Cluny, 7*Gleichen Masons Attend Grand Lodge

The Gleichen baseball team made its third consecutive win by defeating the Cluny team 9 to 7 at Cluny last Friday evening. There was a tendency at the beginning of the season to criticize the showing made by the locals, but the boys got together for a few practices with the result that they have beaten all comers. The game Friday evening was especially gratifying as the Cluny boys had won in Gleichen at the first of the season. McArthur in the box for Gleichen did exceptionally well and his pitching together with steady hitting by the Gleichen batters proved too strong a combination for Cluny. The game was close throughout, the score being tied at the last of the eighth but three hits for Gleichen in the first half of the ninth gave them a lead of two runs which won the game and McArthur retired Cluny without a score. The fans from Gleichen who witnessed the game were much pleased by the showing put up by the locals and declared he game a sample of very good ball.

Umpire Wertz gave a square deal to both sides.

Local Wrestler to Defend His Title

Arrangements have been completed for Walt Anderson, champion heavyweight wrestler of Alberta, to wrestle Ernest Fenley, the Edmonton wrestler, in Gleichen on June 11th and to wrestle Bert Simmons, of Erskine, in Gleichen on June 12th. Fenley weighs 205 lbs and has the reputation of being an exceedingly fast and clever wrestler. He is confident that he can throw Anderson, and a match between these men is certain to be decided only after a supreme struggle. Bert Simmons is known locally as the wrestler who was matched with Anderson at Namska on May 25th, and those who are present at this match may expect to witness one of the snappiest matches of their experience.

In the half darkness Holder's face was pale.

"That is an absurd suggestion," he said.

They were in Cadogan Square now and as they approached Connaught Dell he stopped suddenly and turned from his pocket.

"What is this in the letter box?" he said. "It came in this letter box."

"It's servants."

"They're outside the house. It was an old-fashioned building and had been built before the war. I have never seen any house satisfactory which did not allow her from the room to the door. It is very difficult to view the steps which led from the stairs up to the entrance."

"There is somebody waiting on the stairs," he said suddenly.

"Gold?" he asked.

"Standing in the shadow was a young man."

He had evidently just arrived, for he was searching for the electric plug.

"Is that Connaught Bell?" he said.

"No. Mr. Connaught Bell is out of town."

"Are you a friend of Mr. Bell?"

"I do not know why—" began Gold.

The young man produced a card.

"My name is Ernest Neale, representative of the Postman's News," he said. "I have some information that was married today."

"A reporter, eh?"

"Gold, you can't believe he has brought into the letter box before I offered him a cigarette."

"Yes," he said good-humoredly, "but tell me just as much as I can." He took out his pipe and lit it.

"I do not know why—" said Gold.

The young man produced a card.

"My name is Ernest Neale, representative of the Postman's News," he said. "I have some information that was married today."

"A reporter, eh?"

"Gold, you can't believe he has brought into the letter box before I offered him a cigarette."

"Yes," he said.

"The young man waited.

"Now the piece of the man who—" Gold added.

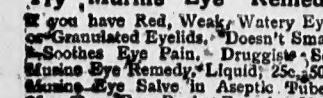

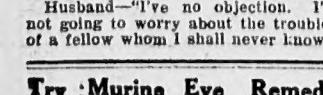

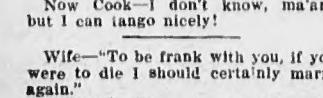

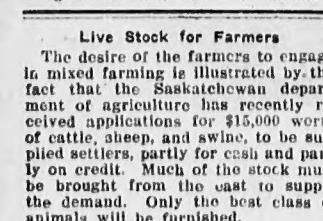

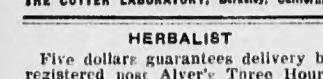

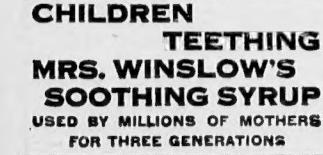

"I do not know that part of it, my son," he said.

Gold hesitated a little.

"I thought there was no reason why the press should not know—anything."

"You see our public is enormously interested in such things," he said.

"British," he said.

THE PRESERVATION OF EGGS Tests Show Superiority of Lime Water Over All Other Preservatives

A series of experiments in egg preservation was carried on by Professor Shatt of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. This work extending over a period of seven years and involving as it did the trial of twenty-five different preparations, has shown conclusively the superiority of lime water over all the preservatives tested.

The Preparation of Lime Water

Concerning the preparation of lime water Professor Shatt says:

"The solubility of lime at ordinary temperatures is one part in 700 parts of water. Such a solution would be termed 'saturated lime water.' Translated into pounds and gallons this means 1 lb. of lime is sufficient to saturate 70 gallons of water. However, owing to the impurities in commercial lime it is well to use more than is called for in this statement. Freshly burnt quick lime can be obtained, 1 pound to 5 gallons (50 lbs.) of water will be ample and the resulting lime water will be thoroughly saturated." The method of preparation is simply to soak the lime with a small quantity of water and then stir the 'milk of lime' so formed into 5 gallons of water. After this mixture has been kept well stirred for a few hours it is allowed to settle. The clear liquid above which is now 'saturated lime-water' is drawn off and poured over the eggs which have previously been placed in a crock, butter tub, candy pail, or other suitable container.

As exposure to air tends to precipitate the lime (as carbonate) and thus to weaken the solution the vessel containing the eggs should be kept covered. The air may be excluded by a covering of sweet oil, or by soaking upon which a paste of lime is spread. If after a time, there is any noticeable precipitation of the lime, the water should be drawn off and siphoned off and replaced with a further quantity prepared.

If many eggs are to be preserved, a large quantity of lime-water may be prepared at one time in a tub or barrel and used as required, provided it be not kept exposed for too long a period. Since lime is very cheap and there is no danger of making the lime water too strong one could safely use twice or three times as much lime as is indicated above, if there is any question as to its strength or freshness.

A Few General Rules

1—Use only perfectly fresh eggs. (On the farm it is well to put each day's eggs in lime-water as gathered. In a store the freshness of the eggs should be determined by candling).

2—Do not put in any cracked or thin-shelled eggs, one broken egg in a crock may in time spoil 12 or 15 dozen.

3—Do not have containers too large—crock (3 to 5 gallons) are convenient. Butter tubs or candy pails will serve well enough, particularly if they have previously been coated on the inside with hot paraffin wax. Aside from the greater convenience of small container, there is less risk of a broken egg spoiling a large number of sound eggs.

4—Be sure to keep eggs completely covered by the lime water during the whole period of preservation. It is well to have an inch of liquid above the tops of the eggs.

5—it is best to store the crocks of eggs in an airy cellar or basement. A room in which the temperature does not go above 45 degrees nor below 35 degrees is most suitable. If allowed to freeze the shells crack and the eggs are useless.

If the above directions are carried out there will be no trouble in preserving eggs in good condition for six or eight months. At the college we have just finished using (April 15) some eggs put in lime water last August.

During the first week of April, 1914, at a number of country points, eggs were sold at 12¢ per dozen. Next winter, these same eggs or what is left of them will be sold out of cold storage at from 25¢ to 35¢.

Two or three crocks and ten cents worth of lime will take care of all the eggs most families require during the winter. Try it once and see how you like using first quality eggs at 15¢ a dozen in January.

Asphaltum Area Around Athabasca

An oil expert who has just returned from Athabasca Landing from an exploration trip through the Athabasca district recently opened by the C.N.R. Edmonton-Calgary line, reports that there is an asphaltum area of at least 175 miles square and containing from 170,000,000 to 200,000,000 tons of the material so useful for paving material. The deposits are from 50 to 300 feet in depth. An analysis made at British, American and Canadian laboratories show the following constituents: Heavy asphaltum constituents: Heavy asphaltum, containing 98.4 per cent.; bitumen, 30 per cent.; highly silicious sand, 50 per cent. A value of $1 per ton is placed upon the deposits. It is expected that the territory thus discovered will be again thoroughly inspected, and if feasible the west of Canada will possess a remarkable source of asphaltum which will greatly enrich the country.

Mrs. Young—Nellie, can you care?

Now Cook—I don't know, ma'am, but I can tango nicely!

Husband—"I've no objection. I'm not going to worry about the troubles of a fellow whom I shall never know."

Powder manufacturers are constantly on the alert to methods and means to minimize factory explosions. So far as practicable, they maintain a large number of small factories scattered over a dozen states. Each of these plants is built with an eye to possible explosions, the foundation and three walls of each building being substantial, while the roof and the remaining wall are of the flimsiest character. When the accidental explosion occurs the roof and weak walls readily give way before the charge, the remainder of the building standing practically uninjured. Semi-automatic machinery is also used wherever possible, designed so that it may be operated largely from points outside the structure in which it is housed.

BEST MONEY HE HAS EVER SPENT

WAS WHAT C. HANSEN PAID FOR DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Had Been Ailing for Six or Seven Years When He Took a Neighbor's Advice and Found a Complete Cure.

Mons. Man—(Special)—Mr. Cornelius Hansen, well known and highly respected here, is telling his friends of his simple but complete cure from a protracted illness. The facts in brief are: He had Kidney Disease; he took Dodd's Kidney Pills; they cured him. But let Mr. Hansen tell his own story.

"I was troubled with my Kidneys for six or seven years," he says. "My back was so sore I couldn't get out of bed in the mornings. I tried medicines, but they did me no good. Then I met a neighbor, and he advised me to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. He said he had used them in his family for a long time and they were great medicine.

"I bought six boxes of them, and by the time I had taken three of them I was feeling much better. Now I am quite well, and I think the best money I ever spent in my life was what I paid for Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure sick Kidneys. They do all that is claimed for them.

In on the Ground Floor

"I have always been suspicious of good things," said a well known New York lawyer, who has a reputation for a large philosophy. "I remember when I was a young man I had an opportunity to get in on the ground floor of what looked to me like a load of easy money."

"I consulted one of the old time conservative men of Wall street. He smiled and said: 'Listen to this story and then decide.'

"A wife arriving home in high spirits tells her husband she has purchased a new bonnet. 'And, sweet heart,' she said, kissing him, 'I got something for you too.'

What a Woman Can Do

She can do more in a minute than a man can do in an hour, and do it better.

Six of them can talk at once, and get along first rate; and no two men can do that.

She can safely stick fifty pins in her dress while a man is getting one under his thumb nail.

She can appreciate a kiss from her husband seventy-five years after the marriage ceremony is performed.

She can come to a conclusion without the slightest trouble of reasoning on it; and no sane man can do that.

She can dance all night in a pair of shoes two sizes too small for her, and enjoy every minute of the time.

She can walk half the night with a squalling baby in her arms without once expressing the desire of murdering the infant.

She is as cool as a cucumber in half a dozen tight dresses and skirts while a man will sweat and fume and growl in one loose shirt.

She can talk as sweet as peaches and cream to the woman she hates, while two men will be punching each other's heads before they had exchanged ten words.

She can—but what's the use? A woman can do anything or everything and do it well.—Pearson's.

Hot Dogs of War

"Say," said an eager visitor to Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, "you can do me a good turn at the war department if you want to, senator."

"What can I do for you?" asked James.

"Go down there and get them to give me the frankfurter privilege for them battles the Mexicans are fighting across the El Paso."—Saturday Evening Post.

C.P.R. Floral Department

A quarter of a century ago saw the birth of the floral department of the C.P.R. Commencing on a small scale it has rapidly developed until now hundreds of thousands of packages of flower seeds and millions of bulbs are distributed amongst the agents, road masters, section men and other employees who interest themselves in beautifying their own and the company's property. The seeds this year were sent out in February and the bulbs are distributed in the fall. Plants, shrubs and perennials are also sent out in immense quantities.

Not only do the employees of the company display great interest in floral culture, but the idea of beautifying one's surroundings has spread amongst the people living in their neighborhood with the result that many an unkempt, dreary spot has been transformed into a bower of beauty. This is not only a delight to the employees and their neighbors, but a source of pleasure to the army of travellers who appreciate the many lovely gardens that embellish the line.

It is an old saying that corporations have no soul, but the C.P.R. has shown that it is an exception to the rule, and has made itself a name for what it has accomplished in beautifying its lines.

Story of a Novelist

Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne," the "best seller" of its generation, was forty and a wife and mother before she turned her hand to novel writing, and her most famous book seems to have been written to soothe the weariness of a severe illness. Much of it indeed was composed in bed, and the writer scarcely hoped to live to complete it. After running an obscure course in a monthly magazine the story was refused by several publishers and accepted only with considerable misgivings by Richard Bentley. It fell flat until some one reviewed it enthusiastically in the London Times, and then the printers worked night and day to cope with the demand. Within a very short time "East Lynne" was translated into almost every language in Europe, and a book and play its popularity has known no eclipse.—Argonaut.

Lame Back Strengthened, Stiffness Taken Right Out

Was Relieved in an Hour, and Cured Over Night

A lame back? Quite unnecessary. All you have to do is to rub on Nerviline. It's simply a wonder for backache—relieves after one rubbing. Nothing possibly could cure an aching back faster than Nerviline, writes Mrs. Arthur Kobar, of Lower Chelsea, N.Y. "I caught cold and was so prostrated with pain I could not bend over. We always have Nerviline at home, and I had the painful region rubbed thoroughly with this grand liniment. At once the pain departed. The lameness was rapidly reduced and in an hour I was able to be about my housework. I was rubbed again just before retiring, and awoke as usual in the morning without a sign of my back trouble."</

WESTERN FREE-TRADER AND "MADE-IN-CANADA"

Dr. Michael Clark Champions the Home Product—An Extract From His Speech

"The vital point, however, is not as to relative costs, but that a home-built navy would be a Canadian cost, and every cent of that cost be turned for the protection of Canadian industry.

"The money if spent in Britain, is a dead loss to Canada, a dead financial loss, a dead loss to autonomy, a dead loss to economy, and a dead loss to self-respect. Were the navy constructed here, Canadians would get the wages to dress their children better, to feed their children better, to house their wives and children better."

Dr. Michael Clark, M.P., the stalwart free trader from Red Deer, is often found championing the "Made-in-Canada" principle. The above extract, therefore from his speech on the Naval Question in the House of Commons will come as somewhat of a surprise.

It will be noticed that Dr. Clark not only champions the "Made-in-Canada" Navy, but emphasizes the fact that the workmen engaged making ships in Canada would get wage which would enable them to live on better scale apparently than would ship workers that Dr. Clark knew in his old home in England. The President of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association will no doubt rejoice that Dr. Clark has become a champion of the "Made-in-Canada" idea, particularly when he suggests that the Canadian workman would support his family on a higher standard of living than his fellow workmen under free trade in Great Britain.

RETURNS TO CHARGE

Interesting Controversy Between Two Big Periodicals—What is a Fair Profit

Two or three weeks ago the "Grain Growers' Guide" had a long editorial condemning the "Canadian Courier" for an editorial which appeared in that paper in January commenting on the fact that the Grain Growers' Grain Company showed a profit of over 25 per cent. on its paid-up capital, and that the profit would have been well over 50 per cent. had not the Co-operative Grain Company lost over $80,000 in export grain trade and some $30,000 in the operation of the Manitoba elevators.

In its issue of March 14th the "Courier" returns to the charge, and in the course of an editorial has this to say:

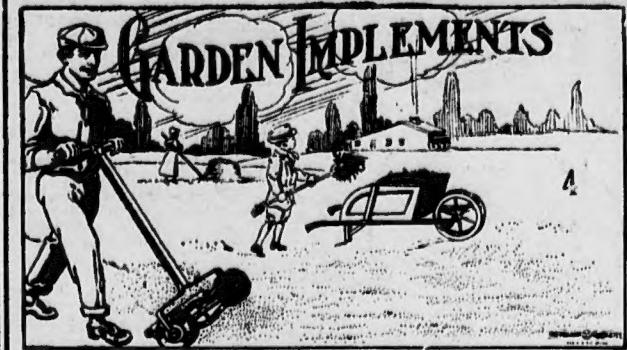

"Labor men tell us, the most radical of them, that capital oppresses labor to whom it owes its existence. Now comes the Grain Growers' Guide, which says that the capitalists rob the farmer to whom they owe existence. Perhaps it might be wise to have a conference of trades unionists and farmers, and have them decide which of them have most claim to be the supporters and creators and victims of the capitalists.

"At the same time, they might decide when a man is a capitalist. If he owns a $50 share in the Grain Growers' Grain Company on which he earns profits of twenty-five per cent., is he a capitalist? If not, would he be one if he owned $1,000 worth of stock? Again, if a man owns his own home and doesn't pay rent, is he a capitalist? If not, if he owns two houses and rents one is he in this hateful class?

"If a labor union, or a number of unions, own a Labor Temple, and the land under it increases in value just as wicked people's property does sometimes, are they capitalists? The Grain Growers' Grain Company which some years ago bought a piece of real estate in Winnipeg and erected an office and printing establishment on it, is it therefore a capitalist? If that land is now worth ten times what they paid for it, are they capitalists simply because they have appropriated the unearned increment to their own use?

"If it is right for a grain grower to earn twenty-five per cent. on his stock in the Grain Growers' Grain Company, is it right for a shareholder in a bank to earn sixteen per cent. (that is the average) on his investment? The grain grower is justified (and the Guide says he is) in getting all the profits he can out of his grain company, and the thousands of shareholders in the bank are justified in taking dividends of eleven and twelve per cent."

"The vital distinction between mounted labor agitator or a weak grain grower, and a hard-working citizen who owns $5,000 worth of stock in ordinary company, needs definition."

A Typhoon in Japan

My room on the second floor rocked and swayed, and it seemed as though the building could not hold together. After awhile I grew accustomed to the motion and the noise of breaking glass and dropped off to sleep, but a terrific crash right by my ear brought me up with a start. The sheet iron shutters of my windows had finally succumbed to the fury of the gale and although fully eight inches outside of the glass, had bent in until the windows, sash and all, lay shattered on the floor. A drenching torrent whirled in through the crack between the resisting shutters, seized a screen and hurled it clear across the room on to my bed and then seized the bed and bounced it savagely up and down. Then part of the roof took leave and slid past my window with the nerve racking clatter of coal pouring into an empty steel bin.

By dawn the typhoon was satisfied with what it had done and moved out to sea. I retrieved my saturated clothes and went downstairs.

The Word Improve

Improve at first meant to rebuke, to condemn or disapprove. In the French it means precisely the opposite of the English word. Milton uses it in the sense of increase. Only in the course of age did it take on the present significance of bettering.

Dread of Asthma makes countless thousands miserable. Night after night the attacks return and even when brief respite is given the mind is still tormented from continual anticipation. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy changes all this. Relief comes and at once, while future attacks are warded off, leaving the afflicted one in a state of peace and happiness he once believed he could never enjoy. Inexpensive and sold almost everywhere.

Open Windows all night

It is difficult to get doctors to agree and to agree with the patient listener. For years I had been a slave to the open window, the fresh air at night. That doctrine of the open bedroom window was my obsession, but recently doubt crept in. By accident the bedroom window had been closed, and I slept peacefully and woke refreshed in a closed room. There was no ventilation of the official medical variety. To my astonishment, he told me that I am an animal when I sleep and do not want fresh air at all.

Look at the animals. When they sleep they choose the stillest nooks they can find, and they know what is best for them. Shut your bedroom windows at night and open them in the morning. And when reflected on the doormouse and the dog I encourage to tuck my nose with the other animals.

That Explains It

Dr. Lyman Abbott, at a luncheon at the Colony Club in New York, was good-humoredly arguing the suffrage question with a prominent suffragette.

Now, doctor, said the suffragette, there's one thing you must admit. A woman doesn't grow warped and hidebound so quickly as a man. Her mind keeps younger fresher.

Well, no wonder, Dr. Abbott retorted. Look how often she changes it!

Minard's Liniment Cures Garget in C's

The minister's wife was busily engaged one afternoon on mending the family clothes when a neighbor called for friendly chat. After a few moments of news and gossip the caller remarked she began to inspect a basket of miscellaneous buttons. You seem to be unusually well supplied with buttons of all kinds? Why, there is one like my husband had on his last winter's suit. Indeed, said the minister's wife with a slight smile. Well, all these buttons were found in the contribution box, and I thought I might as well make some use of them. What must you do? Well, goodbye. Come again soon.

Beneficial Exercise

Exercise to be beneficial must do three things.

First—it must slightly increase the strength and force of the heart beat, so as to improve the circulation and do away with any tendency to sluggishness.

Second—it must slightly quicken and deepen the breathing rate so that more pure air is drawn into the lungs and less impure air is left behind.

Third—it must stimulate into normal activity the myriads of glands in the skin whose duty it is to rid the body of a part of the poisonous substances constantly being formed within us.

Practically any exercise, if carried out with the correct degree of moderation, will accomplish these results and so deserve the term beneficial exercise. The trouble is that indulged in past moderation almost every form of exercise can do more harm than good.

The young girl sat in her bedroom reading and waiting impatiently. Her elder sister was entertained by a young man in the parlor and she wanted to know how it would terminate. At last there was a sound in the hall and a crash as of a closing door made it plain to the girl that the young man had gone. Throwing down her book she ran to the head of the stairs and peered eagerly and intently into the blackness of the hall beneath.

Well, Maude, she called, did you land him?

There was a peculiar silence and then a masculine voice responded:

She did.

Little Ross, aged seven, had been around the corner inspecting the fire station. He came home to tell his mother of what he had seen there. He said: And mamma, even if they are just in the middle of sweeping the floor, they drop the broom and rush off to the fire, and even in the night time when they are in bed, if the bells ring they jump up and dress and go to the fire—cause if they didn't do that when they got there the fire would be all out.

A Tall Story

The long-leggedest man we know is our friend H. Bingha Palmer. He can take steps above five feet long, in spite of which he is devoted to to back riding.

Recently he came into the office to chat awhile, and we noticed that he limped.

Corn? was asked sympathetically.

No—accident, he answered, as about one who doesn't care to talk about something. That aroused our curiosity, and we couldn't help showing it, probably, for he sighed and confessed:

I was riding through the park Monday, and I was just riding along and riding along and not thinking of anything in particular, and my foot slipped out of the stirrup.

Well?

Well, the darn horse stepped on it!

A Merciful Farmer

A young lady from the city was going one summer to make her first visit to a cousin in the country. At the station she was met by the cousin, and after a half hour's drive he told her they were approaching his farm.

In one of the broad fields that met the young lady's attentive eye stood a windmill, and gathered around it, some standing and some reclining, were several hogs.

Well, that beat' anything I ever heard of! exclaimed the fair one. I didn't know that you farmers were so considerate.

What does? queried the farmer.

That over yonder, replied the girl, pointing a pretty finger. Just think of having a man out in the field to keep those hogs cool.

WOMEN NEED*A SAFE TONIC*And There is Nothing Better Than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Toning up the Blood

It is said that woman's work is never done, and it is a fact that whether in society or in the home her life is filled with more cares and more worries than falls to the lot of man. For this reason women are compelled greatly to watch the growing pallor of their cheeks, the coming of wrinkles and the thinness that becomes more distressing every day. Every woman knows that ill health and worry is fatal enemy to beauty, and that good health gives the plainest face an enduring attractiveness.

What women fail to realize is the fact that if the blood supply is kept rich and pure, the day of the coming of wrinkles, and pallor, dull eyes and sharp headaches is immeasurably postponed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are literally worth their weight in gold to growing girls and women of mature years. They fill the veins with the rich, red blood that brings brightness to the eye, the glow of health to the cheeks, and charms away the headaches and backache that render the lives of so many women constantly miserable.

Mr. William Jones, Crookston, says: "I feel that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my life. I was so badly run down that I could hardly drag myself around. I was as pale as a sheet, and you could almost see through my hands. In fact the doctor told me my blood had all turned to water. I was taking medicine constantly, but without benefit. My mother had so much faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that she bought me two boxes and urged me to take them. How thankful I am that I followed her advice. Before these were gone I began to feel better, and I continued using the pills until I had taken five more boxes when I was again enjoying the blessing of perfect health, with a good color in my face, a good appetite, and I feel sure, you will be a warm friend of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

If you are weak or ailing begin to cure yourself to-day with the rich red blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. If you do not find the pills at your dealer's send 50 cents for a box or $2.50 for six boxes to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and they will be sent you by mail, post paid.

Bell Soda in It

When the inside of a silver teapot starts to tarnish, the following idea is very good to make it look like new, according to the Chicago Journal. Put a large piece of washing soda into the teapot and fill with boiling water. Then boil for one hour over a spirit lamp and you will find it become as bright inside as out, and the soda will not injure the silver in any way.

NO MORE NEURALGIA HEADACHE CURED*A Journalist Tells of The Advantages of keeping Nerviline Handy on the Shelf

Fifty years ago Nerviline was used from coast to coast and, in thousands of houses this trusty liniment served the entire family, cured all their minorills and kept the doctor's bill small. To-day Nerviline still holds first rank in Canada among pain-relieving remedies—scarcely a home you can find that doesn't use it.

From Port Hope, Ont., Mr. W. T. Greenaway, of the Gideons newspaper staff, writes: "For twenty years we have used Nerviline in our home, and not for the world would we be without it. As a remedy for all pain, earache, toothache, cramps, headache, and disordered stomach I know of no preparation so useful and quick to relieve as Nerviline."

Let every mother give Nerviline a trial; it's good for children, good for old folks—you can rub it on at a liniment or take it internally.

Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse anything but Nerviline. Large family bottles, 50c; trial size, 25c, at all dealers, or the Catarrhoze Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

An Apt Retort

Cand. Hostess (on seeing her nephew's fiance for the first time)—I never should have known you from your photograph. Reggie told me you were so pretty.

Reggi's Fiance—No, I'm not pretty, so I have to try to be nice, and it's such a bore. Have you ever tried?

That Mrs. Toplofty will carry her pride to any length.

I should say so. Why, do you know, she actually paid custom-house duties on her diamonds rather than admit they were paste.

While travelling through the rural districts of Missouri a Look salesman approached a farmer and stood for several minutes importuning him to buy the book he was selling. Presently the farmer blinked his eyes and said: No, I ain't no use. I can't read.

The salesman paused a moment and then said: But you must have some one in your home that can read. Your wife your children—I know they would be interested.

Yes, my daughter can read, replied the Missourian, but she's got a book.

Is anybody waiting on you, madam? I quired the shop walker.

Yes, sir, retorted the middle-aged matron, fiercely. I reckon they're waiting to see if I won't go away without staying for the change that's owing to me.

Pain Flees Before It—There is more virtue in a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil as a subduer of pain than in gallons of other medicine. The public know this and there are few households throughout the country where it cannot be found. Thirty years of use has familiarized the people with it, and made it a household medicine throughout the western world.

If you wish to gain the friendship of the average man let him understand that you suppose it will be necessary for him to pay income tax on his salary.

LACK OF EMPLOYMENT IN WESTERN CANADA

Review of Labor Conditions of Past Few Months—What the Future Has in Store

Up to last winter, according to Norman Lambert, Western representative of the Toronto "Globe," in a letter to his paper from Calgary several weeks ago, providing for the unemployed was a responsibility that sat lightly on the shoulders of Western Canadians but this year it taxed the wits of every large municipality between Winnipeg and the coast. The middle western country with its periods of severe weather, of course, was confronted with the most serious aspects of the problem. There was no time to discriminate or investigate; people had to be kept warm.

The task of providing for the deserving among those who are classed as the unemployed, furthermore, was rendered more difficult by the presence in the west of a large contingent of Industrial Workers of the World, men who for the past six months have been orating on the street corners, addressing mass meetings, organizing so-called labor parades, and endeavoring on every occasion, by use of demagogic arguments, to inflame the minds of idle workmen. But this disrupting element has been dealt with most effectively in the communities where trouble has been anticipated, and as a result, despite the garbled reports that were sent out from Regina, Calgary, Winnipeg and other western centres, regarding the threatening attitude of the unemployed forces, there has never been for an instant any danger of a violent attack upon public or private property.

It is estimated that all told there were probably 15,000 unemployed men, comprising all trades and callings, as well as a host of unskilled laborers. The ability with which this new problem was handled in all the Western cities in the trying winter months is highly creditable to those in charge of the relief work. The permanent solution of the problem is, of course, much more difficult. The only permanent cure would seem to lie in the industrial development, which most of the Western cities are experiencing, and also in the progress in mixed farming, which has been so much in evidence in the past two years. Nearly every farmer who keeps cattle, sheep, hogs, poultry, etc., can find employment for a man or two practically all the year round, and the result is that he does not have to turn adrift all his laborers as soon as the grain crop is harvested in the fall. Mixed farming will, therefore, absorb a reasonable proportion of the transient labor class which is required in the summer and early fall months to handle the grain crop. As factories increase in number and size the bulk of transient harvest laborers will also be taken care of by the demand for labor in Western workshops. This was notably the case up to the past year in Western cities such as Winnipeg, Calgary, Medicine Hat, etc., and it is only the trade depression, which reduced factory orders to a minimum that prevented the absorption of many of the unemployed in factory work during the past winter. It would seem, therefore, that the establishment of diversified and mixed farming, in other words the development of an ideal home market, affords the surest safeguard against winter unemployment problems in Western cities.

GERMAN STEEL INDUSTRY

Export Trade Exceeds That of Great Britain, and is Growing Rapidly

According to the "Journal of Commerce" of Montreal, the statistics of the exports of iron and steel for the year 1913 show that Germany heads the list, with exports of 6,497,000 metric tons in 1913, against 6,042,000 tons in 1912. Great Britain comes second, with 5,050,919 gross tons, against 4,933,112 tons in 1912. The United States exported 2,760,133 gross tons, against 2,947,500 tons in 1912.

It will be a surprise to many to know that Germany has passed Great Britain in the manufacture of iron and steel. It is perhaps attributable in great measure to the development of the manufacture of warships and munitions of war in Germany on a large scale. Whether the fiscal policy of the respective countries has anything to do with it or not is difficult to say in the absence of detailed figures. However, the policy of Germany since the days of Bismarck has been one of rigid high protection, while that of Great Britain has been one of absolute free trade.

Argentina's average wheat yield is being steadily increased at the rate of over 2 bushels in 10 years by the introduction of more up-to-date methods.

In the heart of the snow clad Rockies, hundreds of miles west of Edmonton, lies a lake whose waters are always troubled, into which a large river flows but out of which there is no visible exit. The leader of a forest survey party sent out by the Dominion Forestry Branch to examine the forests in this wild region, states that the Indians shun this lake as the abode of evil spirits and to give credence to this superstition, from time to time, deep rumblings may be heard where far below the surface the water swirls through the hidden outlet. The river that enters the lake rushed from a subterranean cave many miles down the valley, the portal of which no man has ever yet passed.

AUTOMOBILES

With the advent of 1913 many new cars are noted on the Canadian markets. Both new and old show many refinements and improvements over 1912.

McLAUGHLIN-BUICK builders have made good their claim to a country built car.

A car built for our none-too-good Canadian roads.

A car fitted with all the latest improvements.

The prices are moderate.

Careful comparison is invited with the higher priced cars and especially with cheap cars whose makers base their extravagant claims of present worth on what their cars have not, instead of what they have.

We also have some excellent values in rebuilt cars repainted and overhauled.

Bad Disease

A well known railroad president once took occasion to visit a small southern town to enjoy the excellent fishing near by. He carefully concealed his identity and was consequently snubbed by a "leading citizen" with whom he attempted to strike up a conversation on the banks of the stream. When leaving he secured the services of an aged black to carry his things from the hotel to the depot. There the departing visitor caught sight of the man who had given him the cold shoulder. "Poor Smith," he said, smiling unamusingly. "Suffering from an aggravated attack of egotism." "Dat so?" said Uncle Silas in surprise, following his gaze. "He done lived hear more'n twenty years an' Ah nevah knowed afore dat he wuz allilin'."—Argonaut.

Eleven miles southeast of London, in Kent, not many years ago were discovered the catacombs of the ancient druids, which are now much visited by sightseers and are lighted for a part at least, by electric lights. Over fifty miles of chambers, cut in the chalk cliffs, have already been explored. The druids lived in these catacombs when attacked by their northern enemies, and here they buried many of their dead. The stone in which the human sacrifices were made is still to be seen, and also the well, from which water is drawn to this day.

Arrested Chauffeur—Yes, you honor, I did try to warn the man, but the horn didn't work.

Judge—"Tha w'hy didn't you shoot at the man?"

Chauffeur—I did, your honor, but he didn't seem to hear me.

Judge—"Why didn't you slacken speed rather than run him down?"

Chauffeur—Well, now, you've got one on me, judge. I never thought of that.—Mother's Magazine.

Evenings Free

A man had been sentenced to fourteen days in jail. At five o'clock after the first, he started to kick the cell door, and shout for the warden.

The Warden—What do you want?

Prisoner—I want to go home.

Warden—You were sentenced to fourteen days.

Prisoner—He said nothing about nights.

The superintendent of a Sunday school was giving the elder boys a talk on business success.

"Be industrious, my boys, and you will succeed. Be loyal to your employer; never look at the clock; put the firm's interest before your own, and success is sure to come. You remember, do you not, the great difficulty George Washington had to contend with?"

"Yes, sir; yes, sir!" the boys shouted.

"And what difficulty nearly crippled the great George?"

"He couldn't tell a lie!" chorused the lads.

Population of the World

According to the Bureau of Universal Statistics, the population of the world in 1912 was slightly over 1,900,000,000, of which there were in Asia 933,000,000; in Europe 484,000,000; in Africa 188,000,000; in America 187,000,000; and in Oceania 57,000,000.

The Ruling Passion
It is not hard to keep from being pleased, if you are only sufficiently in earnest about it. In an article in the "Wide World Magazine," Mr. Malcolm Savage Treacher tells the story of a German mountain climber who did not forget to be economical, even in the midst of deadly peril.

A party was crossing a glacier on the slope of Mont Blanc, when one of the travellers called to the others to stop and listen. Strange cries came from the ice beneath their feet.

"Someone has fallen into a crevasse!" exclaimed one of the party. "His groans seem to indicate that he is already beyond help."

"We must do what we can, in any case," responded one of the guides; and he began a long and perilous descent into what proved to be the bosom of a concealed crevasse. At the bottom they found the poor gentleman who had fallen. He was, however, quite unhurt, sitting comfortably upon a bench of ice.

"We've come to save you," said one of the guides.

"You save me," answered the gentleman, quite tranquilly. "How do you know I want to be saved?"

"Because you called to us for aid," said one of the bewildered guides.

"Perhaps I did," replied the German, "perhaps I didn't. You came, anyhow. Now what'll you take to rescue me?"

And before he would allow the guides to hitch him to the rope and drag him to the surface, he compelled them to set down in writing the exact amount they would require for the performance of their life-saving duty. He was a business man, whatever anyone could say about him; and moreover, he knew the guides of Switzerland.

A Powerful Medicine.—The healing properties in six essential oils are concentrated in every bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, forming one of the most beneficial liniments ever offered to the use of man. Thousands can testify as to its power in allying pain, and many thousands more can certify that they owe their health to its wonderful power is not expressed by its cheapness.

Art Critics

When Orclardson's picture, "Hard Hit," was exhibited at the Academy the artist was strolling through the rooms one day when he saw, to his alarm, an excited little foreigner malingering toward him with threatening aspect and brandishing a stick as he came. "Ah, sir," he exclaimed, "if I thought that by killing you I could paint a picture like that I would crush your skull this instant!"

Husband (who is reading the paper)—"Great guns! What have you done? Taken bichloride?"

Wife—"Bichloride! No. I put a two-cent stamp on a postcard."

Curious Ceremony Opens Line

The opening of the first electric street car line in Constantinople was marked by a curious ceremony. In which two lambs were sacrificed upon the tracks, the rails being smeared with the artificial blood while prayers were offered by Mohammedan priests for the success of the undertaking. The officials of the new line took part in the ceremony and are shown in an illustration in the May Popular Mechanics Magazine with their hands extended, the attitude of invocation.

Once More?

Miss De Style—He's a man—after my own heart.

Miss Gunista—He was after mine too, but I jilted him.

"Oh, George," sighed the lovesick maiden, "I'm sure I'm not worthy to be your wife."

"Well," replied George wearily, "I'm not worthy to be your husband, so we're just about evenly matched"—Philadelphia Press.

Fox Fire

Fox fire generally appears on a white oak stump which has decayed from within, so that the whole interior glows like a crucible. At times it seems to vibrate and change like the northern lights on a small scale, but it is difficult to be sure of this."—A Farmer's Notebook.

Aged

"Why, look here," said the merchant, who was in need of a boy, "aren't you the same boy who was in here a week ago?"

"Yes, sir," said the applicant.

"I thought so. And didn't I tell you then that I wanted an older boy?"

"Yes, sir. That's why I'm back. I'm older now."

His chum—How well bred your sister is!

Her brother—Yes; you see, she spends most of her time away from the rest of the family.

A tourist "doing" one of the many old inns of England had ordered tea and a sandwich. The waiter was boring her with his tiresome descriptions of each piece of furniture, and the legends surrounding every article in the house.

"So everything in the house has a legend connected with it," she remarked when he paused. "Well, tell me about this quaint old ham sandwich."—Everybody's Magazine.

Collector—"Why haven't you paid your gas bill?"

Consumer—"The light was so very poor I could not see to read the account."

Prisoner—"I said nothing about nights."

Charity's Start

The public spirited lady met the little boy in the street. Something about his appearance arrested her. She stared at him in a near sighted way.

"Little boy, haven't you any home?"

"Oh, yes, I've got a home."

"And loving parents?"

"Yes'm."

"I'm afraid you don't know what really is. Do your parents look after your moral welfare?"

"Yes'm."

"Are they bringing you up to be a good and helpful son?"

"Yes'm."

"Will you ask your mother to come and hear me talk on 'When Does a Mother's Duty to Her Child Begin?' next Saturday afternoon, at the parish hall?"

"What's the matter with you, ma?"

"Don't you know me? I'm your own little boy."—Tit-Bits.

One afternoon the bookkeeper employed by a certain concern bulged into the private office and timidly approached the desk of the boss.

"Mr. Jinks," said he, after some hesitation, "during the past week I have been doing the clerk's work as well as my own, and this being pay day, I thought I would remind you of that fact."

"Let me see," responded the boss, thoughtfully. "You make $10 a week and the clerk makes $5. Is that right?"

"Yes, sir," answered the bookkeeper with a hopeful expression.

"Good!" smiled the boss. "Then as I figure it out you make half a week for yourself and half a week for the clerk. I will tell the cashier to fix the amount at $7.50."

BANISH PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS

In the Spring Most People Need a Tonic Medicine

One of the surest signs that the blood is out of order is the pimpling, unsightly eruptions and eczema that come frequently with the change from winter to spring. These prove that the long indoor life of winter has had its effect upon the blood, and that a tonic medicine is needed to put it right. Indeed there are few people who do not need a tonic in this season. Bad blood does not merely show itself in disfiguring eruptions. To this same condition is due attacks of rheumatism and lumbago; the sharp stabbing pains of sciatica and neuralgia; poor appetite and a desire to avoid exertion. You cannot cure these troubles by the use of purgative medicines—you need a tonic, and a tonic only, and among all medicines there is none that can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their tonic, life-giving, nerve-restoring powers. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich blood which drives out impurities, stimulates every organ and brings a feeling of new health and energy to weak, tired, ailing men, women and children. If you are out of sorts give this medicine a trial and see how quickly it will restore the appetite, revive drooping spirits, and fill your veins with new, healthy blood.

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Gentle up-town telephones for an officer at once. Burglar in the house.

"Let me see," said the captain, reflectively. "I've got four men inspecting plays, two inspecting the gowns at a society function, and two more supervising a tango tea. Tell him I can send him an officer in about two hours."

Critic—No; neither does Forbes-Robertson.

Anglo-Saxon Poise

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Dr. Wainwright left Sunday for Edmonton, having received word that his mother was dangerously ill.

A meeting of the directors of the Gleichen District Agricultural Association is called for Saturday in the Town Hall, to discuss important matters of the association.

Meetings of the Ladies' Aid, E.
J. Society, &c., &c. are now in attendance at the annual convention of the Woman's Auxiliary of the English Church representing St.
Andrew's branch Gleichen.

Mrs. Dr. McIvor gave a tea last Saturday afternoon at her residence in honor of Miss Mariel Gooderham, one of our coming June brides. There were a great number of guests present and a very pleasant time was had by all.

Girls waiting work for Stampede will be held at the former Home—11

The Gleichen merchants continue
to give their customers the best
and advise their customers that they cannot continue to handle all they are bringing in. The manager of the Bay Store states that he cannot handle all the goods he has received
and has resold them, and expresses
the hope that his customers will be able to pick their butter until the
prices improve and then you forget
it belonging to us.

The Call very much regrets to state that our weatherman Mr.
Jones has been ill and unable to make his report for some time past.
He will be able to attend the meeting after next. From letters received and verbal reports, the Call finds that these reports are very interesting to our readers. In fact they are more interesting than he has been for many months comparing carefully their reports in this district with those supplied by Mr.
Jewett in the Call.

N. T. Hayes, the popular president of the Gleichen United Farmers Union, has again received a telegram from the Provincial Secretary of the United Farmers hoping that all good farmers will assist him in carrying out the law.
Although he has not visited the Call office since his appointment this year to ask us to help him to have the right to assist him in the writing of a bill to prohibit Deere Wagons and Brook-Buggies. He will offer them at a bargain price.

The undersigned announces that
in order to reduce a
large amount of English
Sunday morning service, he is able
of cash, forever in debt, never out
of danger and in bell all the time.
For some reason he overlooked the formulates of the letter, and I call
his attention to the fact that "e"
is never in war, always in peace, it
is the only way to live, and if he is the end of the world. Without
would be no meat, no life, no
heat. It is the centre of humanity,
makes love perfect and without it
there would be no editors, devils or
news—Ex.

Assessment Roll, 1914

Notice is hereby given that the assessment roll of the Town of Gleichen for the year 1914 has been prepared and is now open for inspection at the office of the secretary treasurer of the town. The roll will be open from 10 o'clock in the morning to 4 o'clock in the afternoon on every day which is not a holiday or a Saturday, except on that day from 10 o'clock in the morning to 12 o'clock noon, and that

BATTERIES BATTERIES

Here you are

I have just snappeped up a large amount of dry cells. They are the famous simple Farmer Home—11

The Gleichen merchants continue
to give their customers the best
and advise their customers that they cannot continue to handle all they are bringing in. The manager of the Bay Store states that he cannot
handle all the goods he has received
and has resold them, and expresses
the hope that his customers will be able to pick their butter until the
prices improve and then you forget
it belonging to us.

The best and longest life dry cells on the market. These are being sold at ridiculous low prices. Get your supply now while they last. The price is 25 cents each, all guaranteed fresh, each cell tested before packing. Order now. Order them before you forget.

WAGONS and BUGGIES AT WHOLESALE

The undersigned announces that
in order to reduce a
large amount of English
Sunday morning service, he is able
of cash, forever in debt, never out
of danger and in bell all the time.
For some reason he overlooked the formulates of the letter, and I call
his attention to the fact that "e"
is never in war, always in peace, it
is the only way to live, and if he is the end of the world. Without
would be no meat, no life, no
heat. It is the centre of humanity,
makes love perfect and without it
there would be no editors, devils or
news—Ex.

GET YOUR CANADIAN HOME FROM THE CANADIAN PACIFIC

Wonderfully fertile land is offered for sale by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at prices ranging from $11 to $30 per acre. There is no better agricultural land than the Canadian soil. It is unsurpassed for all forms of agriculture, including grain growing, stock raising, dairying, poultry culture, vegetable growing, and general mixed farming. The lands are convenient to railways and markets, and are located in a country of low taxation and delightful climate.

TWENTY YEARS TO PAY

Under the Company's new policy no land is sold to speculators, but only to those who will occupy and improve it. The terms of sale are now one-twentieth cash and the balance spread over twenty years, with interest at six per cent per annum.

ASSISTANCE TO FARMERS

Under certain conditions the Company will advance a loan of $2000 to new settlers to be used in erecting a house and barn, fencing the land and sinking a well. This loan is repayable on the same terms as the purchase price.
